

AQUALITE™
security with style.

the right choice

Aqualite is everything you want in a security keypad—from its new, large, easy-to-read blue display to its custom vocabulary for spelling out alarm type and location. Because Aqualite displays clear plain-English messages, you don't have to guess about your security status or the cause of an alarm. And the slim, low-profile Aqualite is very easy to use. Quick, two-button panic keys alert the monitoring station to an emergency while preventing accidental alarms. Available in black, platinum and white, Aqualite's user-friendly design also allows easy keypad brightness and volume control.

Contact us today for more information and see why everything you want in a security keypad is in our cool blue Aqualite.

